Davide Beretta

Web developer

Hi! My name is Davide and I'm a junior Web Developer based in Bergamo, Italy.
After 5 years in Administration and Controlling department, in 2017, I decided to take a turn in my career to follow something I'm really passionate about - web development. I have been studying online with the Odin Project, starting from the basics and then focusing on Ruby on Rails. At the moment, I'm looking for job opportunities in companies to enhance my professional experience but I'm also considering freelance jobs, so if you have a project to develop, get in touch!
